The Korg Pa500 Indian Styles is a 49 key step sequencer, with 12-voice polyphony, 4 oscillators (2 crystal), 2 LFOs (1 low pass and 1 high pass), 3 envelopes, and 4 effects engines. One of the most interesting aspects of this machine is its ability to produce authentic Indian music styles such as Bollywood. With just one press of the footswitch you can access three different presets for each style. You can even go beyond these categories into an assortment of your own custom rhythms by creating your own kit using any acoustic instrument on the keyboard itself. The connection made between the player and the machine is unique in that it has a one to one ratio. It will even play in a style of Indian music if you sing, such as in the category of "Sitar Style". If you click on any category it will play the different rhythms, for example Indian Pop. It is considered an authentic sound machine because of its ability to imitate instruments such as the sitar and tabla drums. The Korg Series 01 Keyboards were all released with these five styles: Afro-Cuban, Asian, Bollywood, Latin and World. The Pa500 series can emulate most instruments from around the world with ease due to their range of different styles including jazz, rock and calypso.

Korg Pa3x Styles

The following styles are included in the Pa500:

The Korg Pa2x+'s signature feature is its ability to play complex rhythms using any instrument on the keyboard itself. This device can also be used to easily modify, sequence and store the rhythms you create. With all of this functionality available to you, how can you use it? The user manual provides different ways for playing around with the software instrument. These include: selecting a rhythm from one of the pre-set rhythm kits; having fun by creating your own kits; selecting a rhythm kit which suits your personal style; playing Indian music with an authentic touch. By using the built-in recorder you can play music straight from the keyboard itself. If you have a sound card then you'll be able to record your own sounds and use them as kits.
